

Retail Guarding

Whether it goes out of the front door, or out the back, every single retailer has suffered theft of some description in the not too distant past. Shoplifting alone is estimated to cost retailers over £200 million per year, and on the last study carried out, staff theft was also estimated to run in to millions for the retail sector.

Response Security Solutions are able to provide both uniformed retail security guards and covert store detectives to our clients. Our experienced SIA licensed security staff are subjected to regular retraining and assessment in order to make them the best in the business. Our team work with your store management in order to not only guard the store but to assist in placing loss prevention procedures and techniques in place.
